du Mois de l'histoire des Noir.e.s

Chers délégués et représentants de la société civile,

Nous remercions Madame Soomer pour son engagement auprès de cette instance. Nous apportons notre disponibilité et soutien à la présidence de Monsieur Martin Kimani, Acknowledging that we are speaking on unceded Aboriginal territory.

Reaffirming that racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia, and related intolerance constitute a denial of the objectives of the United Nations Charter.

Recognizing the incommensurable historical contribution of my ancestors, the Haitian slaves.

Noting that international cooperation is crucial in our collective action against racism and discrimination.

Considering that Human Rights of people of African Descents are under attack in multiple ways, such as the attack in DEI, now more than ever.

Consider that some political discourses are weaponing against Human Rights of People of African Descents by reenforcing the White privilege, negative stereotype and derogatory language.

Convinced that racism, linked to power, is rooted in systems that constantly redefined themselves remaining omnipresent for those it targets.

Emphasizing the crucial role of Women of African Descent and their leadership in the fight against the gender-specific violence, systemic racism, and misogynoir.

Highlighting the perversion link to tokenism, and the urgent need for effective representation for combating the multiple racial violences.

Women of African descendants who rise to positions of power face the glass cliff, mobbing, and social deaths that prevent them from exercising deeply needed transformative and emancipatory leadership, with consequences for both their health and the one of their communities.

Acknowledging that Women of African descendant have denounced the fact that algorithms reproduce racism and misogynoir.

We propose:

- Recognize the impact the historical of the treatment of Haitians command a fair and equitable reparation for the people of Haiti;

-Appoint a monitoring body with the capacity to audit States on issues affecting the rights of women and girls of African descendants;

- Provide a direct recourse to this body when national abuses go unheeded because of the systemic racism and misogynoir are deeply embedded in the institutions;

- Developing a UN framework based on the human rights recognized by multiple conventions to ensure that artificial intelligence must include specific and robust measures to counter systemic racism, more specifically misogynoir

- That Peoples of African descents specialized in artificial intelligence be involved in developing the UN framework.

Dear delegates, we thank you for your kind attention.
